Stay connected... stay involved!

APRIL 22, 2014

VOL. II ISSUE 28

Dear Honors Students,

Three weeks left of the semester – that’s it! As it winds to a close, let’s celebrate.

Reply to your evite TODAY for the Honors Spring Dinner
Thursday, April 24th
6:00pm-8:30pm
Caldwell Auditorium

Join us for delicious food, great company,
and celebration of our Honors seniors!

*Note: when you arrive for the dinner, please enter through the Auditorium foyer, not by the stairs outside of Campus Ministry, so that you can be greeted by our appetizer reception.

Spring Dinner Slideshow

Remember those pictures that you took to commemorate the fun times that you and your Honors friends had this semester? Are they tucked away in your phone or sitting around on Facebook?

They deserve a bigger screen. Submit them to purpleke@cua.edu, and they will become part of our slideshow that will play throughout the Spring Dinner!
Deadline: Thursday at 12 noon.

Tour the National Building Museum

When: Sunday, April 27, meet at the CUA metro benches at 1:00pm for a 2:00pm tour.

Where: National Building Museum

Cost: FREE!

Explore DC’s museum of architecture, engineering, and design, for free! Past exhibits have featured sustainability projects, Shakespearean theaters, World Fairs, modernist architecture, and even LEGO buildings. Check out a video preview of a new exhibit, called House and Home, here.

Please RSVP to Jillian Moser (olson@cua.edu). The National Building Museum is only a few blocks from the Chinatown metro, so you’ll be in a good part of town to get some dinner afterwards.

A Shakespeare Production

See CUAdrama’s production of The Merchant of Venice, directed by Eleanor Holdridge!

April 24, 25, and 26 at 7:30 p.m.

April 26 and 27 at 2 p.m.

Join the Discussion Series, too! More details can be found here.

A Penny for your Thoughts

“There is not room for Death, / Nor atom that his might could render void: / Thou - Thou art Being and Breath, / And what Thou art may never be destroyed.” ~Emily Bronte
Happy Easter!
