Dear Honors Students,

Happy Halloween! As the Graduate Assistant of the University Honors Program, I have one piece of advice for you: don’t just eat one candy. Eat a lot of candy! Not just one candy. A lot of candy.

I hope that all of you were cautious and prepared during Hurricane Sandy, and everybody is still alright. Unlike the Pony Express, this newsletter had to be delayed for a couple days, but it’s here now in all its glory.

There is an overabundance of announcements and events for you to be aware of in this week’s newsletter. May you love each word as your own firstborn male child.

Upcoming Conference

The conference will take place from November 8-10 on our campus in the Pryzbyla Center. It will be a current look at political and scientific aspects of climate change. More information on speakers and sessions will be forthcoming.

The conference is invitation-only, but invitations are available to 8 honors students who express interest in this subject. Your place can be held by emailing Dr. Shoemaker at cua-honorsprogram@cua.edu.

Advising is now open!

All honors students who plan on taking a course with an Honors designation in Spring 2013 need to set up an advising appointment.

Make an appointment…on SkedgeMe!

Appointments for Freshmen should be made with Lisa Campbell (campbell@cua.edu) in the Center for Academic success. Upperclassmen need to meet with a UHP staff member by Scheduling Honors advising appointments using SkedgeMe. Visit the UHP website at http://honors.cua.edu/appointments/default.cfm, and make an appointment from your computer! SkedgeMe will let you know our times and days of availability, send you a confirmation e-mail, and even remind you about your appointment the day of. Students who have already made advising appointments do not need to reschedule their appointments; they will be kept.

Advising can also be a great time to discuss your future plans at CUA, such as study abroad, major/minor changes, internships, etc.
Events Calendar

Venice Info Session
Thursday, November 1 6:00pm
Location: McMahon 202
For your information, there will be a Venice Trip info session tomorrow at the above time/place, led by Stefania Lucamante from the Department of Modern Languages and Literature.

Pie Night with Dr. Miller (TRS)
Thursday, November 1 6:00pm
Location: McDonald Lounge
On Thursday, Dr. Robert Miller will be leading a symposium on the topic of pie and pie-related issues. Besides the fantastic intellectual discourse, you can enjoy a home-cooked meal featuring Shepherd’s Pie as well as pie for dessert. Dr. Miller is a Secular Franciscan, married (wife Anne-Marie) with four boys. He earned a PhD in Hebrew Bible from the University of Michigan. This semester, he is teaching HSTR 101.

2-for-1 night at the Folger
Friday, November 2 6:00pm
Location: Folger Shakespeare Theatre
On November 2, the Folger will be holding two events for the price of one ($10) for all students with ID! At 6:00pm, Peter Sis will discuss his newly-released Persian poem “The Conference of the Birds,” and at 8:00pm, a performance of the same poem will follow, featuring live orchestra. Not an official UHP event.

Library of Congress Visit
Wednesday, November 7 1:00-4:00pm
Location: Meet at the outside benches of the Brookland Metro
This event, especially important for Juniors and Seniors currently doing research, will include a tour of the resources of the Library of Congress Jefferson Building, such as the main reading room and the computer center. Attendees will also have the opportunity for a reader card registration. Please RSVP to the honors program office by November 2.

Baroque and Renaissance Music Performance
Sunday, November 11 3:00pm
Location: Theological College Auditorium
Theological College invites you to a special concert of Baroque and Renaissance music. Soprano Nola Richar

Honors Latin Reading Group
Thursdays 6:00pm
Location: McDonald First-Floor Study Bubble
Join your fellow Honors Students for a Latin Reading Group! This Thursday, we will be the opening passage of Cicero’s De Natura Deorum.

Highlight

Fifth Annual Wall Street Career Evening
Wednesday, November 7 7:00-9:00pm
Location: Pryzbyla Great Room B
Invited: All students and alumni interested in a career in the financial services industry.

Join a panel discussion and networking opportunity with a lineup of some of CUA’s most successful alumni in the financial industry. Drawn from a wide range of sectors within Wall Street and beyond, the panelists will share their experiences in achieving the positions they now hold and give their perspectives and career advice, followed by “speed networking” sessions with you.

Students in all majors and all classes are welcome! Students who participate, and who follow up with resume-polishing and mock interviews to be arranged after the event, will enter our resume-circulation system among our extensive network of Wall Street alumni. We especially encourage freshmen, sophomores, and juniors planning ahead for seeking summer internships and employment, to help build experience for post-graduation career entry.

This event is free and open to all students and alumni. Refreshments will be served.

For further inquiries, you can email the office of the Dean at Gribbin@cua.edu.