Dear Honors Students,

This week, I’ve decided to write to you in the form of a reader response. So after you all receive this newsletter, I will raise my right hand, and then you repeat back to me everything inside.

CUA Rome Program

Study abroad in Rome in Fall 2013?

Um, yes please.

Contact us immediately if you are even considering studying abroad next semester, because the exciting opportunity of Study Abroad in Rome has just opened up. Here’s some new information about the program:

- The Provost has agreed to approve a significant one-time discount for Fall 2013, making Rome comparable or in some cases cheaper than CUA.
- Students returning from Rome will have guaranteed on-campus housing for the Spring.
- The deadline has been extended to Friday, April 19.
- Students who have not completed their language requirement should contact Dr. Shoemaker to discuss the possibility of obtaining a waiver.

As a rule, men worry more about what they can’t see than about what they can. —Gaius Julius Caesar

TAKE A PROFESSOR TO LUNCH!!! OR BREAKFAST. OR DINNER.

9 out of 10 doctors strongly recommend that you take advantage of the opportunity to take your dearly beloved professors to lunch.

I know what you’re thinking.

a) I can’t afford that kind of nonsense.

b) I don’t have time, and plus that sounds pointless.

c) Awkward!

Well listen. a) Wrong, b) Wrongo, and c) Wrongest.

First of all, we pay for you and your professor’s meal at the Pryzbyla Cafeteria. FREE FOOD. Yeah.

Second, b) is actually two objections in one, which is kind of cheating. But truly, this is something into which you will not regret investing an hour or two. Your professors have devoted an entire career to teaching students and helping them succeed in their field. Don’t you think they might have some wise words for you?

Third, taking a professor to lunch can actually be fun. Our entire honors faculty has already expressed interest in having lunch with students by way of this program, any time. You’re not inconveniencing them! They are looking forward to the opportunity to chat.

So why not email us and request some meal passes? Then get in touch with your professors. It’s a good decision.
